CEDARVILLE, OHIO, FRIDAY, JULY 23, 1937

NEWS LETTER FROM STATE DEPARTMENTS

COLUMBUS.—A significant gain in foreign and domestic corporation fees and miscellaneous receipts by the corporation division of the Department of State for the first six months of the current year as compared to the same period in 1936 was reported by Secretary of State William J. Kennedy, who expressed optimism concerning the future business and industrial outlook in Ohio. Activities of the division are considered an accurate barometer of conditions. Fees and receipts from January 1 through June 30 totaled $240,941, which represented an increase of $63,884 compared to the first six months' total a year ago, and an increase of $108,981 and $108,146, respectively, during the same periods in 1935 and 1934. "The increased fees and receipts would seem to indicate that we are experiencing the beginning of stabilized prosperity," Secretary of State Kennedy asserted. "When Ohio corporations and foreign corporations licensed to do business in Ohio are active, we find that conditions in general are improving."

A new bronze memorial tablet, honoring "a great and good Ohioan," the late Major General Benson W. Hough, was installed in the State House rotunda last week by veterans of the famed Rainbow Division who were in annual national convention here. It was unveiled by his daughter, Miss Catherine Hough in the presence of the officers of the division and three hundred spectators. Tribute to General Hough was paid by former Governor Wilbur M. Brucker of Michigan. Inscriptions on the tablet read: "Born Delaware County, Enlisted Co. K 4th Infantry Ohio National Guard, 1892; Ohio Wesleyan University 1896; Ohio State University Law 1899; Adjutant General of Ohio 1915-16; Colonel Commanding 168th U. S. Infantry, 42nd (Rainbow) Division 1917-18; Major General Commanding 87th Division, 1920-25; Judge Supreme Court of Ohio, 1920-22; U. S. District Attorney 1922-25; Federal Judge, Southern District of Ohio 1925-35; Hon. Member Supreme Court of Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite 33 Degree."

"H-m," mused Conservation Commissioner Lawrence Woodell after having heard the story of a Columbus woman and the seven young quail. "She does deserve a vote of appreciation by the Ohio Conservation Council." The woman, Mrs. Edna Proctor, has, as secretary to Columbus Police Chief Dunn, been called upon to lend a hand in sundry situations. But the other day her experience was most unusual. Motoring on a tar road near Indian Lake she spied a mother quail scurrying across in front of her car and followed by a brood of seven tiny quail. The hen quail arrived safely in the weeds along the highway but one and all members of the brood became stuck fast in the tar. Mrs. Proctor stopped her car and carefully removed the small quail and, after sprinkling their feet with dust, liberated them near the hen quail. "Yes," Commissioner Woodell said again, "she deserves a vote of thanks what with the council doing all it can to save and promote wild life in Ohio."

State Director of Agriculture Earl H. Hanfeld, following action by the state fair board, announced two important changes affecting the 1937 Ohio State fair. After five years of 25-cent "depression" admission prices the 1937 event will call for an outlay of 50 cents. This year the fair will open on Saturday and there will be a Sunday fair. The decision on the increased admission was reached after numerous county fair managers complained they could not operate unless the state fair price was boosted. Director Hanfeld said, because they will be compelled to charge a 50-cent admission this year. Children under sixteen will be admitted for 25 cents, and admission during the two extra fair days will be only 25 cents for adults. Previously the state fair has opened on a Monday.

James C. Woodard Jr., son of Warden Woodard of Ohio penitentiary and known to most of the 4,000 inmates as "Jim," toots a mean horn as a pinch-hit member of the brass section of the prison concert band, according to record clerk Dan J. Bonzo. Frequently due to the illness of some horn-blowing inmate, "Jim" is called upon for his services during a prison program or a radio broadcast. Mr. Bonzo said. When at Ohio State university "Jim" was a member of the university band.

Land Prices Drop

In Greene County

A decrease of $12.50 per acre over the previous year was noted in the price of Greene county farm lands, which changed ownership last year, according to the annual report of County Recorder E. D. Beatty for the fiscal year ending June 30. Farm lands brought an average price of $64.56 per acre last year as compared to $77.06 the preceding year.

The average price is based on transfers where the price per acre is stipulated, principally including land sold at sheriff's sales or at executor's or administrator's sales.

Deeds filed during the year totaled 1,322 as compared to 1,157 the previous year. New mortgages filed during the year totaled 742, with considerations totaling $1,357,081.30, while 548 mortgages with a total consideration of $1,240,679.15 were cancelled.

WHEAT CROP ONLY FAIR

Threshing is now in full blast following the wet spell and all local grain dealers say the moisture content is dropping. There have been no crops so far that have tested sixty pounds and only a few at 58 with the proper percentage of moisture.

The Cedarville Grain Co. is drying and cleaning wheat for shipment. Cummings & Creswell report the crop by Collins Williamson to be about the best at that elevator. The test was 58 pounds.

C. L. McGuinn shipped three cars this week including crops that ran from low up to fair. Most crops have been heavy with moisture and much wheat shriveled. There is straw enough this year for thirty bushel wheat. Wheat Thursday was $1.06 for No. 2.

The village council agreed to pay the cost of the project. About 2,000 gallons of tar will be used.

Your State House And Mine

PAUL YODER, Lieut. Governor

Major Norman Imrie, of the Columbus Dispatch, recently wrote: "A man's first care should be to avoid the reproaches of his own heart; his next, to escape the censors of the world. If the latter interferes, with the former, it should be entirely neglected."

Too often, in public life, folks plan "just for today," without vision of the future or remembrance of the past—in fact, this seems to be the rule, rather than the exception and is exactly the reverse of the fine philosophy embodied in Major Imrie's quotation.

This reverse action is entirely responsible for the ills and abuses in the administration of your State Government—in that too many care more about what is said about them than they do about what they know to be right.

No one takes the time to prepare—and if they did, no one would take the time to publicize—any complete program of operation, whether it affected the tax structure, the fiscal structure or any other phase of your State Government. They develop, from day to day only, the part they believe to be "good publicity"—thereby not admitting the whole cloth.

A relief to the participants and a blessing to the State, is the end of the budget controversy, both sides, of course, claiming victory. In most of the feuds and wars I have heard of, both sides lost.

So, pending a complete check and analysis of the net results of this controversy, there is only this to be said: In spite of urgent requests by the Governor for new taxes—and in spite of bills levying new taxes (introduced in the Assembly) NO NEW TAXES HAVE BEEN ENACTED! But, some reforms have been effected.

So often, recently, have I been reminded of the saying that "figures don't lie, but liars do figure" and, lo and behold!—almost daily, a new set of figures has appeared on the horizon in the "budget controversy." This again goes back to the fact that money not collected in taxes, cannot be spent—and if new new taxes are enacted, all the figures arranged in all manners possible, are of little importance in accomplishing the defeat of new taxes—which was and remains the ultimate goal towards which the "No New Tax" bloc in both houses of the Legislature is unceasingly and unselfishly striving.

The operation of state government has been more fully aired in 1937 than for many, many years. No greater opportunity has ever been afforded to every state official to carry on and put the State House in order. Who will grasp the opportunity remains to be seen. The more who join in the attempt, the greater will be the results.

State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson has the opportunity of a century, in compelling governmental reforms—not from the standpoint of scandalizing anybody or anything, but from the standpoint of constructive reform. In my opinion, he will do that very thing ere this year is over.

Senate investigations have come and gone; few have accomplished anything at all. But, observing the operations of the present investigations, there is every evidence that that branch of the government will do its full share in a sincere desire to bring about much needed governmental reforms.

Other state officials—particularly Governor and the Attorney General—can co-operate, or they can retard the other state officials in their endeavors.

Many questions should be answered—and the machinery with which to obtain the answers, and approve or disapprove the current or proposed methods, should be given every opportunity to function. Some of these questions are:

Are the evils of the Liquor Department to be corrected by law and the administration? Or will they be permitted to continue, to the disgust of many temperate citizens who will vote Ohio "dry," as a last resort in correcting the evils—and if this latter be done—who will pay the bill for old age pensions?

Will highway taxes find their way into roads? A survey is being made of this situation, which will be very enlightening.

Are the tools by which "Bill" Kennedy, our genial Secretary of State, operates the elections, adequate?

Does Ohio need a Constitutional Convention?

Do our Civil Service laws need strengthening?

These—and many other questions—could be propounded, and should be determined, to attain the ultimate goal of ACTUAL efficiency and economy in state government. If the administration is sincerely interested in honest, efficient and economical government, it will assist—and not hamper. Unless thwarted by the Governor of the Attorney General, the answers to all important questions can and will be answered in the near future—and true conditions shown.

School District

Transfers Made

Small overlapping sections of Xenia township school district were acquired by the Xenia city and Beaver Creek rural districts in transfers, requested by petitions, authorized by the Greene County Board of Education Thursday afternoon. The territory transferred is known as the Rural Home district on the western side of the township.

The board voted to leave undisturbed in Xenia township the northwest corner known as the Hilltop school section, after considering a petition for its transfer to Beaver Creek.

By the latest transfer, making a total of four, the county board completed compliance with a school reorganization plan adopted for the 1937-38 year, which was approved by the state department of education.

Territory transferred included small sections of Xenia township to adjacent Xenia city and Miami, Silvercreek and Beaver Creek rural districts. The board announced it contemplated no further transfers during the next 12 months.

F. F. Boys Are

Enjoying Their Trip

A note from Prof. L. J. George, who is head of the F. F. A. Travelaire Club, with a troupe of boys on a tour of Michigan and the lake region, relates about the stop at Greenfield Village, Dearborn, Mich., the newly created village of once famous houses, mills, and the museum where thousands of interesting exhibits can be found. The village is a memorial to Thomas Edison. The party also visited the Ford River Rouge plant the largest of its kind in the world, a special guide conducting the party. The next stop was at Lansing and on to Clare, where the boys played the local F. F. A. game of soft ball. Fishing at Freemick for bass was not so good. Wednesday the party left for the Straits. A stop was made at Traverse City during the cherry festival.

The night was spent in St. Ignace after a ferry boat ride across the Straits. A large boat with an old Danish skipper was rented and the delegation landed nine Northern pike averaging from four to six pounds. The fish were dressed and the boys had a restaurant lady fry them.

An interesting two hours was spent watching the operation of the locks at the Soo where several large ships passed thru. Sunday night found us twenty-five miles back in the forest on a lonely camp near a CCC Camp. The boys had opportunity of hearing the wild animals calling for their mates and some had trouble sleeping in the open. The weather was cool and the boys found trouble in keeping warm. Monday in northern Wisconsin.

HOW MUCH MANHOOD IS THERE IN CONGRESS?

The Roosevelt-Lewis Communistic plan to pack the Supreme Court at all costs to pay a political debt as a result of a half-million dollar gift to the Roosevelt campaign fund transcends all state as well as all political party lines. The compromise bill now up for consideration is no better than the first, in fact it is nothing but a face-saving effort to fool both Congress and the electorate.

Senate Leader Joe Robinson, conservative Democrat, personally opposed to the packing plan, followed orders from Roosevelt headquarters. Every ounce of personal energy possessed by Robinson was behind the Roosevelt command under political pressure to force immediate passage by Congress. The three-day-drunk picnic for Congress failed of purpose regardless of the fact that smiling Frank was in command.

Joe Robinson was found dead, exhausted from weary efforts to carry out Roosevelt orders. Laboring under a command such as he had in the interest of a cause he knew was not right, escaped a dreaded result by the visit of the Hand of Death.

Whether Senator Wheeler, (D.) was correct or not in his public statement that Robinson's death was an act of God and quoted a passage from the Old Testament to support his claim. There can be no denial that Robinson was forced by political expediency to carry on in behalf of those who had evil designs for control of the Supreme Court.

Robinson's death was the signal of renewed war-fare between the Roosevelt-Lewis followers and those who oppose the court packing movement. The ink had hardly dried on the first edition giving account of the death than Roosevelt was busy behind the curtain and by a public letter trying to club his opponents and at the same time charging the latter were using the death of the leader to confuse the cause. This last charge was out of place other than it showed the typical mind of a mad man, determined to have his way, even over the bier of a departed friend. Roosevelt professed much for Robinson but his interest was not great enough for him to make the funeral trip to Little Rock. Robinson's friends were shocked at this and more than one Senate supporter was convinced that even had the packing plan been adopted Lewis would never have permitted Roosevelt to send the Robinson name for Senate confirmation. Thus you have the spectacle of a labor dictator dictating to one chosen as president who considers himself the supreme dictator.

Roosevelt's attitude is nothing more than that of those high in command in Soviet Russia, Nazi Germany or Fascist Italy. His order to Congress to pass the measure is an insult to the supposed intelligence of both branches of Congress. Certainly that letter is a challenge to the manhood of Congress.

A majority of the Ohio delegation in Congress is opposed to the Roosevelt-Lewis court plan. Senator Vic Donahey should have your congratulations for opposing Roosevelt. Sen. Bulkley of this state first approved the packing plan but now is more or less non-committal. He should have your letter urging him to join Donahey on this issue.

It was a subservient and cowardly Reichstag which voted its own effacement and the destruction of German liberties. It is now a question of loyalty to country with patriotism above politics that a priceless heritage of a free government can be saved over covert plans of control of a labor dictator of foreign birth.

As "The Cincinnati Enquirer" says: "Upon what meat does this our Caesar eat?" "The Columbus Citizen," pro-Roosevelt but opposed to the packing plan carries a cartoon headed, "No, He Isn't Blind—He Just Doesn't Give a Damn!" A creature of the administration with a suspended huge packing box over head says, "We will not abandon our position!"

Xenia prosperous as the result of death of several wealthy citizens puts the new found wealth in the form of inheritance taxes into a proposed city building. That is plans are in the making. Death distributed wealth long before the birth of the New Deal.

When it is all distributed and a few years of the New Deal in actual practice it will be, then everyone will be on the same footing. When that time comes there will be no need of banks for once the wealth is distributed each one can carry his or hers in any ordinary purse. With everyone having the same amount of wealth no one would want to work for the other. Even the liquor would be divided and each could drink his own but he would have to purchase his next drink from a neighbor for even state stores would go out of business. There would be no more need of stores for distribution of wealth means a divide up in everything. Even your government could not print money and have any value behind it for all the wealth would be scattered among all the people, evenly. It would be an ideal time to live for there would be no taxes and no need of even a packed

Supreme Court. Death in the New Deal "happy days are here again" would not even bring prosperity to the largest or the smallest city for there would be no inheritance taxes.

If you could throw yourself in a trance you might visualize just what

Franklin Roosevelt and his Communist supporters are trying to do for the "lower third" and to the upper two-thirds of society.

Every state has one or more institutions where the dreamers of that

"ideal state," where all work is play and money is free and costs nothing.

In most of them each morning big business comes to the front when a group of inmates get together. In a space of time quicker than this can be put in print the Brooklyn bridge, the Goddess of Liberty, the A. I. U.

Tower or some other famous structure is sold and on a piece of newspaper, if such cannot be found, a check or draft is written. To make the bargain really worth while the sellers will throw in the Empire State building or Washington's monument. Here is where the first New Deal was ever put in practice. The New Deal was born under such circumstances and here is where it will finally spend its days.

A proposition is under way towards a city hospital in Xenia. Some months ago a campaign was conducted for a county hospital but the electors could not see the idea of the whole county providing a hospital for the county seat. The first cost of any hospital is as nothing compared with the cost of operation. A bond issue may be submitted to the electors of Xenia city, which cast a favorable vote for the proposed county hospital. The rural townships opposed the bond issue.

The Ohio Senate has passed resolutions for investigations into the State Liquor setup in Ohio. Also expects to uncover some interesting dealings in the Highway Department and the Civil Service Commission. The Senate wants to recess but the House wants adjournment to stop any investigation. Gov. Davey controls the House but he is a stranger to the Senate.

It is hinted some men connected with the State Liquor Department will be as hard to find as was the case with some of the "Ohio Gang" that operated in Washington during the illness of the late President Harding. Europe was none too close in those days. The Highway Department needs something, at least a little air will do no harm. It is costing as much per mile to pay the salaries of the office help as it does to provide labor and material for the highway itself. As for the Civil Service Commission we have no more faith in the honesty of the present commission than we have had under any other in Washington or Columbus. Republican or Democratic. The Civil Service laws protect more worthless public employees, speaking as a whole, than any thing we can mention. Merit means nothing more than something to talk about in Civil Service.

A Greene county farmer needed some help for harvest and being near the county capital sought the aid of several about the court house for harvest. Three accepted the invitation on a nearby bench was a couple of old-age pensioners that had had a bad night and were out early for another wink. Before the auto pulled from the curb one of the old-age pensioners had a happy thought and said: "Go on boys we old-age pensioners have got all you young fellers working for us." This was more than one of the trio could stand and he jumped from the machine with this statement, "Before I'll work a day for you drunken bums, I'll quit right here."

A Dr. Alexander, better known as a brain-truster in the Agriculture Department under Sec. Wallace, delivered a speech and then he did not. It was an anti-Southern speech. In the "Ag" Dept. brain-trusters must even have their speeches approved. A copy was sent in and cancelled but the Dr. did not get the veto message and delivered the speech anyway. All of a sudden the "Ag" office issued a press notice that such a speech was not done. J. S. Russell, farm editor of the Des Moines, Iowa, Tribune, sat only a few feet away and took down the speech which blistered the South and especially Southern statesmen. Radio listeners say they heard the blistering speech over the air but the "Ag" Department still says Alexander did not deliver the speech. A cabinet member had a couple of speeches written and it was his misfortune to read his anti-Klu Klux speech in a non-receptive territory.

"Easy Living" --- and Loving!

When Jean Arthur is in a picture it just seems that her shows are always of that unusual hilariously funny comedy type. Movie fans have come to expect it after enjoying such hits as "The Flamingo," "More Than A Secretary," "Mr. Deeds Goes To Town" and "History Is Made At Night." Miss Arthur's newest success is the Paramount hit "Easy Living," in which Edward Arnold and Ray Milland are her victims. "Easy Living" is the story of a clever young girl who didn't have coffee-and-doughnut money for breakfast but who promoted herself into fur coats, diamond rings and millions by nightfall. It will open a week's engagement, Thursday, July 22, at the beautiful new Majestic theater in Springfield.

Miss Elsie Shroeder Bride Edwin Westerfeld

In a ceremony marked with dignity and simplicity, Miss Elsie Shroeder, became the bride of Mr. Edwin Westerfeld, of Cincinnati, at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Cora Trumbo, Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Families of the principals and a small company of friends of the bride witnessed the single ring service read by C. E. Hill, pastor of the Cedarville M. E. Church.

Following the ceremony Miss Wint-d Stuckey sang "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Miss Mildred Trumbo, cousin of the bride.

As Miss Trumbo played the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin," Mr. Westerfeld and his bride, unattended, came down the stairway and took their places before an improvised altar of palms and ferns in the living room. The altar was banked with baskets of gladioli with seven-branch candelabra on either side.

A blue silk gown, fashioned along simple lines, was worn by the bride. Her accessories were white and she wore a shoulder corsage of gardenias and baby breath.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held and an ice course was served. Guests were present from Cincinnati, Springfield and Cedarville.

Mr. and Mrs. Westerfeld spent several days here and then left for Asheville, N. C. Upon their return they will reside in their newly-furnished home in Fairview Heights, Cincinnati.

Mrs. Westerfeld was graduated from the two-year normal course at Miami University and the University of Cincinnati. She formerly taught in the Greene County public schools but for the last few years has taught at Hoffman School, Walnut Hills, Cincinnati.

Accounts insured up to $5,000 with Cedarville Federal Savings & Loan Association.

GIRL SCOUTS

Twenty-five Girl Scouts met Tuesday afternoon in the City Hall.

Work on the Second Class Scout rank requirements continued. Each Patrol gave first-aid (to several girls supposed to be in an automobile crash) as follows: Cut head, sprained arm, cut foot, sprained ankle and one who had fainted. Arrangement of flowers according to the Japanese School demonstrated. "Sign of distress," and first five letters of the alphabet, Morse code were studied.

A lone troop in any community must contribute a credential fee of $5 per year to National headquarters in New York City. This must be from the community to help make possible the development of Girl Scouting throughout the United States.

The Cedarville Girl Scout Troop is raising this fee with your help. Buy ice cream for Saturday night supper and engage cake for Sunday. Help the girls to continue in Scouting here in Cedarville, also save work by buying home-made ice cream and cake, Saturday, July 24.

Save for a home with the Cedarville Federal Savings & Loan Association.

Misses Elizabeth Anderson, Dorothy Galloway, Mary Jean Townsley, Elizabeth, Francis Williamson, Louise Jacobs, Marie Collins, Betty Nelson, Charlotte Turner and Miss Lena Hastings as chaperon are spending the week at Russell Point.
